

Women's Studies Program Administrators' Handbook

New Edition 2006

Experienced women's studies directors, chairs, and others offer perspectives on numerous aspects of administering a women's studies program or department. Of course, situations vary tremendously from one institution to the next—what works in one place may be impossible or ineffective in another.

Editor:

Prof. Martha McCaughey, Appalachian State University

for the National Women's Studies Association
<http://www.nwsa.org>

TABLE OF CONTENTS

FACULTY AND POSITIONS

- Appointments and Hiring 1
Eileen Bresnahan, Colorado College
- Workload for Chairs and Directors 8
Liz Kennedy, Arizona University
- Mentoring Faculty Toward Tenure and Promotion 10
Sharon Leder & Ines Shaw, Nassau Community College

BUDGETS AND FUNDING

- Budgeting and Bringing in Revenue 14
Barbara Howe, West Virginia University
- How to Make the Best Use of Your Budget 16
Laura Severin, North Carolina State University
- Development and Funding 18
Barbara Howe, West Virginia University
- Successful Grant Writing for the Women's Studies Scholar 22
Carol J. Burger, Virginia Tech

WORKING WITH PEOPLE ON CAMPUS

- Relations with Office Staff: Some Dos and Don'ts 26
Maria Bevacqua, Minnesota State University, Mankato
- Working with Deans 29
M. Duane Nellis, Kansas State University
- A Dean's Perspective on Women's Studies 30
Sue Rosser, Georgia Institute of Technology

POLICY, VISION, AND CHANGE

- Policy Goals Pertaining to Gender Equity in Universities and Colleges 33
Santosh Mishra, S. N. D. T. Women's University
- Dismantling Whiteness in U.S. Women's Studies and the NWSA 36
Chithra KarunaKaran, The City University of New York and The Malcolm X Commemoration Committee of Harlem, & Laura Gillman, Virginia Tech
- Fighting Right-Wing Attacks on Women's Studies Programs 43
Martha McCaughey, Appalachian State University, & Cat Warren, North Carolina State University
- Creating a New Women's Studies Degree Program 48
Jacquelyn Litt & Jessica L. Jennrich, University of Missouri-Columbia

STUDENTS

Recruiting and Retaining Students 54
Amy Levin, Northern Illinois University

Recruiting Students 55
Ellen Friedman, The College of New Jersey

What Can You DO with a Women's Studies Education? 59
Amber E. Kinser, East Tennessee State University

Counseling Referrals 71
Toni King, Denison University

PUBLICITY AND PROMOTION

Mailing Lists 74
Barbara Howe, West Virginia University

Newsletters 76
Barbara Howe, West Virginia University

EXAMPLES OF WOMEN'S STUDIES PROGRAMS AND DEPARTMENTS

Examples of Four-Year Colleges and Undergraduate Programs 78
Beloit College, Catherine M. Orr, Beloit College

Denison University, Eloise A. Buker, Denison University 81

Examples of Two-Year Colleges and Undergraduate Programs 84
Century College, Judith Roy, Century College

Examples of Graduate Certificate Programs 87
Appalachian State University, Martha McCaughey, Appalachian State University

Examples of Graduate Programs: Master's and Doctoral 93
The Ohio State University, Linda Mizejewski, The Ohio State University

Towson University, Jo-Ann Pilardi, Towson University 97

University of Cincinnati, Anne Sisson Runyan, University of Cincinnati 104

University of Maryland, Bonnie Thornton Dill, University of Maryland 110

SELECTED RESOURCES

Readings about Women's Studies Programs 113
Barbara Winkler, Southern Oregon University

Web Sites for Women's Studies Administrators 118
Barbara Howe, West Virginia University